1994 Orca Whale
"Commemorative Silver Dollar"
One Ounce Pure Silver
20,000 Mintage

NOTE: Please review these images to see the awesome quality and beauty of the designs. These photographs were taken professionally for our catalog. The photos for the various coins and sets offered below were from an old scanner and do not capture the true essence of the coins. However, they are all just as nice as the silver dollar coin shown here!

This is a flawless "cameo" proof strike; the backgrounds are perfect reflective "blazing-mirrors" (which show up jet-black in scans) and the designs are frosty white (which, of course show up white in scans). The contrast between the mirror-like backgrounds and design is stunning! It weighs one-ounce, is struck in .999 pure silver and measures 39 mm (a bit larger than a U.S. silver dollar). Add this one to your collection today!

Principality Of Sealand Half Dollars & Silver Dollars
U.S. Navy Seals
Very Rare "Mule" Errors!

Only 75 Half-Dollars & 100 Silver Dollars Minted

Total Mintage 75 Pieces

Total Mintage 100 Pieces

One of our suppliers (who held the contract to strike the Principality of Sealand coins back in 1994) came up with the idea of making a U.S. Navy Seals Medallion last year and when the die was finished, he ordered 75 pieces struck in silver-clad and 100 in silver, as "trials" to see how they looked and have a few to start selling if they looked good.

When he was asked which reverse die to use (of the many he has) he said, anything for the "trial strikes" will do and we'll figure out later which one we will use on a regular basis.

To his surprise the production department decided to use the reverse die for the old Sealand Half-Dollars and dollars (for the 1oz silver version) just because it was of a nautical theme. WRONG! These reverse dies should have never been used mated to a medallion die! But instead of scrapping them out, the owner of the coins sent them back to the production department and had them edge-marked: "ERROR 25 of 75" (or whatever the appropriate number was that preceded the "of 75" portion of the edge inscription) for the silver clad and "25 of 100" (or whatever the appropriate #) . I purchased 30 of the 75 silver-clad and all 100 of the silver. As best as I know, I am the only person to have any of these for sale. These are rare! Every one is edge-marked with its own unique serial number along with the total Minted in this manner. They are 39 mm in diameter, weight about 26 grams and are clad with 100 mils of pure silver for the half-dollar coin and 1oz. pure .999 fine for the dollar coins.

"Commemorative Proof Coins"
Regular 3-Piece Set

These are flawless "cameo" proof coins; the backgrounds are perfect reflective "blazing-mirrors" (which show up jet-black in scans) and the designs are frosty white (which, of course show up white in scans). The contrast between the mirror-like backgrounds and designs is stunning! The dollar coin weighs one-ounce, is struck in .999 pure silver and measures 39 mm (a bit larger than a U.S. silver dollar). The half dollar is of the same dimensions as the dollar and is struck in copper-nickel. The twenty-five cent piece is golden-bronze and carries a serial number. This special numbered quarter was minted in an edition of just 1111 pieces!

Price of this set is $69.00

The gold coin above is shown enlarged out of proportion with the other coins in the set to show detail; it is 14 mm in diameter and weights 1/20 of an ounce.

*Set includes Special Serial Numbered Quarter
With Low Number*

These are flawless "cameo" proof coins; the backgrounds are perfect reflective "blazing-mirrors" (which show up jet-black in scans) and the designs are frosty white (which, of course show up white in scans). The contrast between the mirror-like backgrounds and designs is stunning! The silver dollar coin weighs one-ounce, is struck in .999 pure silver and measures 39 mm (a bit larger than a U.S. silver dollar). The Gold Dollar is 1/20th of an ounce .999 pure gold and is 14 mm in diameter and is one of just a few that I was able to buy. The half dollar is of the same dimensions as the silver dollar and is struck in copper-nickel. The twenty-five cent piece is golden-bronze, 30.1 mm (about the size of a USA Kennedy Half dollar) and carries a serial number. This special serial numbered quarter was minted in an edition of just 1111 pieces. Add this quartet of fascinating coins to your collection today!

"Commemorative Proof Coins"
Special Silver 3-Piece Set
Limited Edition 500 Sets World-Wide!

Includes Special Serial Numbered Quarter
With Low Number

These are flawless "cameo" proof coins struck in pure .999 fine silver; the backgrounds are perfect reflective "blazing-mirrors" (which show up jet-black in scans) and the designs are frosty white (which of course show up white in scans). The contrast between the mirror-like backgrounds and designs is stunning!

The Dollar and Half Dollar coins each weigh one-ounce, are struck in .999 pure silver and measures 39 mm (a bit larger than a U.S. silver dollar). The Dollar is clearly marked as silver on its reverse where the denomination is noted as ONE SILVER DOLLAR while the Half Dollar, (which is normally struck in copper-nickel), is edge marked ".999 SILVER".

The Quarter Dollar, (normally struck golden-bronze), is struck in one half ounce .999 fine silver and carries a serial number prefixed by "AG" to indicate it is silver. It's serial number is found in the cartouche located just above the date and serves to number the entire set. The silver versions of the Quarter Dollar and Half Dollar are only available in these special silver proof sets and were limited to just 500 pieces world-wide. "Commemorative Half Dollar"
Rare Scalloped Edge Variety

Listed as X#8.2 in Krause Publication's Unusual World Coin

➡ 150 Mintage $30 List Value

*This Image Shows The Rare Scalloped Edge Variety
Laying On Top Of A Regular Reeded Edge Variety*

The coin offered here was struck in error with an "experimental" Scalloped Edge. We found these in a hoard of Sealand coins that we purchased some time ago without even knowing the variety existed until we recently opened all the tubes. A quick call to the original distributor revealed that they had never seen the variety previously either. They, in turn, called the minting facility to find out what happened and learned that a small number of these coins were struck with what they described as an "experimental collar" that was not intended to be used with this coin at all; the errors apparently "slipped in" with the regular strikes by mistake! A total count of the entire remaining inventory of this coin indicates that fewer than 150 were struck before the error was caught and then corrected!

This is a flawless "cameo" proof strike; the backgrounds are perfect reflective "blazing-mirrors" (which show up jet-black in scans) and the designs are frosty white (which, of course show up white in scans). The contrast between the mirror-like backgrounds and design is stunning! It weighs about 26 grams, is struck in cupro-nickel and measures 39 mm (a bit larger than a U.S. silver dollar).  Only 99 Sets Produced

This is a flawless six-coin set of trial strikes produced for the Principality of Sealand's 1994 Orca Whale Half Dollar and Pure Silver Dollar! This six-coin set is comprised of two coins showing the obverse and reverse of the Sealand Fifty cent piece and four coins of the obverse and reverse of the Sealand Silver Dollar. The Fifty cent trials are struck in the adopted cupro-nickel alloy while the Silver dollar coin is struck in silver and golden-bronze versions. Each side of the normal Sealand coin is mated and struck with a special reverse die that states it is a Trial Strike and identifies the metal it is struck in (see the example of the bronze reverse shown above).

They are "cameo" proof strikes; the backgrounds are perfect reflective "blazing-mirrors" (which show up jet-black in scans) and the designs are frosty white (which, of course show up white in scans). The contrast between the mirror-like backgrounds and design is stunning! The silver pieces weigh exactly one ounce and are struck in pure .999 silver while the cupro-nickel and golden-bronze issues weigh about 26 grams each. All are 39 mm in diameter which is a bit larger than a U.S. silver dollar. Add this rare set to your collection today!
